

THIN client

- Software installation and maintenance costs are rising.
- The mobile workforce is growing.
- Time spent installing and configuring applications is never-ending.
- The need for simplification is greater than ever.

Sound familiar? Zortec can help you better manage these pressing issues while lowering your total cost of ownership in the process. Designed to provide a simple, cost-effective way to access and manage information, Z Thin Client is a host-based computing architecture that allows your applications and data to reside on a central server, while being deployed as a thin client across the enterprise.

This powerful, yet simple to configure, module eliminates software installation at the desktop, as well as the time consuming task of configuring remote users. By reducing these redundant tasks, your IT staff can focus on more important issues while your end-users gain access to current, updated systems wherever they may be. in the office, on the road or across the globe. And by centralizing the management of information with Z Thin Client, the organization becomes more efficient, gains better control, simplifies its infrastructure and realizes substantial cost savings.

Product Highlights

- Delivers fast, low cost remote deployment of applications
- All applications and data to reside entirely on host server
- Allows you to run applications on the Web with NO code changes
- Provides easy downloads and automatic configuration for remote users
- Runs as a single Windows executable or as an ActiveX control within a Web browser
- Supports Field by Field data validation
- Provides local printing
- TCP/IP connection to clients over a LAN, WAN, Intranet or Internet
- Adds Windows functionality for text-based applications such as buttons, fonts, and other graphical elements.
- Provides Security features such as restrictions to specific IP addresses
- Small footprint of product enables easy download and self-configuration
- Lowers total cost of ownership

So why wait? Z Thin Client can lower your total cost of ownership and take the headaches out of managing remote installations. Contact us today at 800.361.7005 or sales@zortec.com to learn more about Z Thin Client or any other Zortec development solution.